

May 7, 2019

Section 301 Tariff to Increase on May 10, 2019, President Trump Threatens Additional Chinese Tariff Increases

Dear Valued Customer,

On May 6, 2019, U.S. Trade Representative Robert Lighthizer told reporters that the third round of the Section 301 tariffs will be increased to 25% from 10%, effective Friday, May 10, 2019 at 12:01 a.m. This increase will impact $200 billion worth of Chinese goods.

He advised that the Office of the U.S. Trade Representative will publish a notice in the Federal Register on May 7, 2019. According to Lighthizer, China had reneged on specific promises made to the US during the trade negotiations. The Chinese delegation will still be travelling to the U.S. for the next round of talks, to continue to discuss any trade deal.

On May 5, 2019, President Donald Trump tweeted that he was considering increasing the tariffs on the third round of Section 301 tariffs levied against China, increasing them to 25% from 10% effective Friday, May 10, 2019. He also tweeted that all remaining Chinese origin goods will be taxed at 25%, however, that will still need to go through rulemaking and comment period like the previous rounds of Section 301 tariffs.

“For 10 months, China has been paying Tariffs to the USA of 25% on 50 Billion Dollars of High Tech, and 10% on 200 Billion Dollars of other goods. These payments are partially responsible for our great economic results. The 10% will go up to 25% on Friday. 325 Billion Dollars[...] of additional goods sent to us by China remain untaxed, but will be shortly, at a rate of 25%. The Tariffs paid to the USA have had little impact on product cost, mostly borne by China. The Trade Deal with China continues, but too slowly, as they attempt to renegotiate. No!”

@realDonaldTrump, (2019, May 5) Retrieved from
<https://twitter.com/realDonaldTrump/status/1125069836088950784>

The third round of the Section 301 tariffs were originally supposed to increase March 1, 2019 but were delayed due to positive progress being made on the trade talks.

Thank you for being our Valued Customer. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact C.H. Robinson for further information.

Sincerely,
C.H. Robinson Customs Compliance Team

Our information is compiled from a number of sources that to the best of our knowledge are accurate and correct. It is always the intent of our company to present accurate information. C.H. Robinson accepts no liability or responsibility for the information published herein.

