U.S. and EU Continue Suspension of Section 232 Tariffs for 5 Years

Dear Valued Customer,

The United States and European Union have agreed to work toward a resolution on the Boeing-Airbus 16 year-long quarrel, one of the longest disputes on record with the World Trade Organization.

In separate announcements on 6/15/2021 the U.S. and EU have confirmed they agreed to work toward a solution on the dispute as well as addressing the challenges that both parties share with China.

As part of the agreement, both parties agreed to the below general principles -

- Suspend the tariffs related to the Boeing-Airbus dispute for five years
- Establish a Working Group to analyze and overcome any disagreements that may arise
- Ensure that our workers and industries can compete on a level playing field
- Confront the threat we face from China's ambitions to build a sector upon non-market practices

More details on these principles can be found on the White House Announcement and Fact Sheet linked in the Additional Resources section below.
