

Decoding the U.S. – China Trade War

from milestones to magnitude

C.H. ROBINSON

WHERE WE STAND TODAY: These four U.S. tariff measures against China cover roughly 70% of overall goods trade, based on annual import statistics from the Census Bureau's Foreign Trade Division.

*On January 15th, 2020 the U.S. and China signed a Phase One Agreement with China in which both parties agreed to suspend imposition of additional duties, reduce the duty rates on the latest list of tariffs (for the U.S. that is list 4A changing from 15% to 7.5%), and cover purchase commitments and other structural reforms to be completed by the Chinese government. You can learn more about this deal, which officially took effect on February 14th, 2020 by accessing the website of the USTR: <https://ustr.gov/phase-one>
